Affordable Housing Nonprofit Rocky Mountain Communities Hires Amritpal Byrd as Vice President of Property Management

Byrd brings 20 years of property management to the organization

Denver, CO, August 24, 2023 – Affordable housing nonprofit Rocky Mountain Communities (RMC), that owns and manages affordable housing communities across the state, has named Amritpal Byrd as vice president of property management. She brings more than 20 years of experience to the organization.

“Amritpal is a great addition to our leadership team and we look forward to her bringing her years of experience to the role to support our properties and communities,” said Mark Marshall, interim CEO of Rocky Mountain Communities.

As vice president of property management, Byrd is responsible for the overall strategic direction, operation and profitability of RMC property management operations. Her primary duties include setting the property management business line and individual property performance goals, oversight of property compliance, budgeting, marketing, building an agile department team and fostering industry partnerships.

Most recently, Byrd was a DEI consultant and facilitator throughout Colorado, and the regulatory compliance manager for Colorado Coalition for the Homeless. Her experience in affordable housing spans the field as she brings skill and knowledge from working with senior living, traditional LIHTC and permanent supportive housing into creating housing solutions for underserved populations. She incorporates her skills as a trained life coach with Debbie Ford Institute with the Lean SixSigma process improvement philosophy in order to empower the RMC workforce while bringing RMC’s values of I.H.O.P.E - which stands for Integrity, Holistic approach, Opportunities, Passion, Equitable - alive for those the organization serves.
